President’s Message

As I wrote the 1997 “Annual Report” during the Christmas holiday, I had to reflect on the accomplishments of ALSITE. What a year! I want to personally thank former President James Brown for his hard work and dedication in commanding our efforts. His commitment to serve and direct ALSITE, along with the proposal submitted by former Southern District Representative Jim Meads, created the catalyst that sparked our new direction: our ALSITE Strategic Plan. I also want to thank Committee Chair Darrell Skipper and the Strategic Plan committee members who worked so well together in creating the outline for our future plan. Part of our plan includes “Task Managers” who have been appointed to lead specific efforts along with their committee members. I want to thank each of them for their commitment to serve. Our first goals have already been achieved with the kickoff of the ALSITE Public Information Hotline, ALSITE Membership Roster update of e-mail addresses, and the ALSITE Web Site that started January 1, 1998. I want to thank James Brown, Bob Vecellio, John McCarthy and Kevin Brown (an Auburn student) for their efforts in getting things started.

Nineteen ninety-eight is going to be a “Year of Transition” as we embark on our next quarter of a century as a Section. But it’s not a transition just for the sake of change; it’s a transition to reach another level as an organization. The goals that we want to achieve in our plan will take the efforts of many, and I am requesting that you share in these duties. We would not be where we are today if it wasn’t for the courage of our previous presidents to strive to encourage our membership to reach another level and to establish a caliber of excellence that makes ALSITE an organization which others try to imitate. Our scholarship program, for example, originally inspired to reach a goal of $20,000, has almost tripled since its inception and has reached a new milestone, offering the possibility of multiple scholarships. This program would not have been possible without your support. Even to this day, our scholarship program achievement is the envy of all the other Sections.

I know from serving in previous Board positions that it takes more than the Board to achieve our goals; it takes the membership. It takes the membership to embrace and respond to the call for action. It takes the membership to take a stand and to be an active part of this organization, not just a name on our roster. I challenge each of you to give as much as you can; even a small task can accomplish a part of our plan. I feel encouraged that our Board of Directors, Committee Members, Task Managers, and our older membership will continue to step forward and serve our organization. I feel compelled, though, to challenge our new membership to come forward and to contribute your expertise to our organization. As President, I am committed to serve you as much as possible. If there are any items you feel the Board should address in the upcoming year, please contact me and we will try to address them.

It will indeed be a great honor and privilege to serve as your President.

James Foster

Birth of a Web Site

This past September the Strategic Planning Committee came up with several goals and objectives. Two goals as presented at the fall meeting in Montgomery were to "Increase public awareness of transportation engineering" and "Increase support to our membership." Two objectives were listed relative to these goals: 1) Produce a web site linked to national ITE and involve the Auburn Student Chapter in maintaining this effort; and 2) Develop an Alabama Section ITE web site with four primary functions. The four web site functions were identified as follows:

(a) Professional yellow pages for membership,
(b) Membership directory,
(c) ABD products/services directory, and
(d) Links to other transportation sites.

John McCarthy was selected to be the web site task manager in October 1997. He began the production of the web site by obtaining the services of Kevin Brown, a student at Auburn University. Kevin had expressed an interest in developing home pages on the Internet. James Brown and Tommy Lee were asked for input. Once the basic structure was developed, Tommy, James and John began to obtain information and supply it to Kevin. By Christmas a site was under construction. The site is still under construction and will be continuously updated. The web site homepage's temporary uniform resource locator is http://www.auburn.edu/~brownks/homepage.htm.

The reason the web site does not have a permanent location is cost. Most people think this is going to cost ALSITE membership a bundle to produce and maintain. One question was "How much does the web site cost per month to reside on a server?" John McCarthy is working on finding us a location, and if anybody knows John, he is very resourceful when it comes to money. Several candidate vendors of web access have been contacted and the placement of the web site on the Auburn University server is being pursued.

The web site contains a homepage and seven linked pages. The homepage welcomes the visitor to the site, describes the site and allows the visitor to send e-mail to the site. It also has a counter of the number of visitors to the site.

Mission/Officers/History/Membership is a page that includes the mission statement from the Strategic Planning committee, a list of the current officers, the history of ALSITE from the beginning, and membership requirements. The page will include an application so visitors can apply for membership via the Internet. More About Members of ALSITE gives a description of the purpose of the web site links, the e-mail links and the transportation related web sites. Members' Web Sites includes web sites of members, companies or agencies that may be of professional interest to visitors. Links are provided to each site when a member provides a uniform resource locator (URL) and all links will be verified by the ITE Student Chapter.

The Members' E-mail page allows messages to be sent directly to a member's e-mail address for transportation related questions. A member needs to provide this address to show they are willing to be listed, as that address will now be available to the whole Internet. The ITE Student Chapter will verify all addresses.

ABD Web Sites gives a list of the web sites of members of the Associated Business Division of ALSITE. These sites will be listed only if the URL is provided and all links will be verified by the ITE Student Chapter.

Transportation Links allows the user to link to governmental agencies, research centers, specific transportation topics (such as Intelligent Transportation Systems), and other professional organizations. Candidate locations are verified and will be added to the list as requested.

The last pages on the web site are an ALSITE Directory, that contains the names, addresses, phone and fax numbers of each member of ALSITE. Because of the amount of data presented, the list is broken into segments to provide for quicker loading of the file desired.

A lot of hard work was put into developing a web site that meets its functional goals. Please visit the site and let John McCarthy, Kevin Brown, Tommy Lee and James Brown know how much their efforts are appreciated. They have worked on this only for the pleasure of giving back to a profession to which they are committed. In addition to thanking these individuals, you can also help the process by providing updated information on your address, phone, fax, and e-mail location. Changes or additions can be sent via e-mail through the web site or sent by phone or fax to Bob Vecellio.

ALSITE “Transportation Hotline”

This past September the Strategic Planning Committee came up with several goals and objectives. One goal as presented at the fall meeting in Montgomery was to “Increase public awareness of transportation engineering.” The objective relative to this goal was to “Establish a public information hotline.” The purpose of this article is to update the membership on the status of this objective.

James Brown was asked to be the “Task Manager”. He then began his research on toll free numbers. After several weeks, James found a program with AT&T that handles a toll free service and voice mail. This service allows the users to call anywhere within the state of Alabama and ask any transportation-related question. The toll free number is 1-888-834-1020, or local to the Birmingham area the number is 945-1020. James monitors the calls and either responds to the questions himself or gets technical assistance elsewhere.

James is also obtaining assistance from someone to publicize this hotline throughout the state, via television, radio, newspaper or other means. There will be no costs associated with the services he receives. James would like to request that anyone willing to be an expert in any field (ABD or otherwise) to let him know as soon as possible.

News from the Membership

The Alabama Section ITE wishes to express its condolences to the family of Bill Temple. Bill was a long-time supporter of ALSITE and a valued friend.

Southern District ITE Report

It is great honor for me to serve as the Section’s Representative to the District. I look forward to working with the Board and Membership over the next two years.

Now is the time to start planning your trip to Memphis for the Southern District Annual Meeting, April 19th through 22nd. We will set up a display about Montgomery and invite the District to come see us in ‘99. Make your plans now to attend. I’m sure it will be a great meeting!

We need your help to get ready for the ‘99 meeting. A list of committees and chairpersons was printed in the fall issue of ALSITE NEWS. If you are willing to help, please contact a committee chairperson, Bubba Bowden, or give me a call.

Our very own Jim Meads is running for the District office of Secretary/Treasurer. We all know what a great job Jim would do for the District. So when the ballot arrives, please vote and put the ballot right back in the mail. Jim can’t win the election without YOUR vote. Let’s put another Alabama Section member in office!
