PRESIDENT’S MESSAGE

As other ALSITE presidents have said before me, it is hard to believe that my year of serving as the ALSITE president is well underway. I would like to thank each of you for entrusting me with this position over the next year.

I once heard Richard Caudle say we serve in a humble profession. He is correct. The decisions our members make everyday affect everyone that lives and travels in Alabama. Not only do these decisions affect everyone today, they will affect everyone in this state for many decades.

Chris Reeves once wrote that the names of the past ALSITE presidents was a list of whose-who in the transportation profession in this state. He too was correct. I have been fortunate to be a part of this organization since 1979 and have had the privilege of knowing and meeting each of them. It is indeed humbling to have my name included among them.

Translated another way, I am getting old.

There are several exciting initiatives happening in ALSITE. The first is the charter of an ITE Student Chapter at the University of Alabama. Dr. Steven Jones has returned to the University as an Associate Professor. Dr. Jones has agreed to serve as the faculty advisor for an ITE Student Chapter at the University. He has begun the process of submitting documentation for them to charter a student chapter. The goal is to submit the request for the charter at the next SDITE meeting in April, 2010. (Continued pg 2)
Another initiative is the desire to hold a Section Leadership Development Session. ALSITE has applied for grant money from SDITE. If received, this grant along with equal funding from ALSITE, will allow us to sponsor a Leadership Development Session. Once approved, we will have an application process to select participants.

A continuing initiative is the SALTEENS project. We now have DVDs of the SALTEENS video. The DVD labels are being printed and the goal is to hand them out to members as they sign-in at the spring meeting. The video is also being placed on the ALSITE webpage and will be accessible for anyone wishing to use it. A SALTEENS Facebook page has been created and it also includes the SALTEENS video.

Along with the SALTEENS Facebook page, there is now a Facebook page for ALSITE and the ALSITE webpage has been updated. Our goal is to keep our members informed on what is happening in the section, to encourage more networking among our members, and to inform nonmembers about ALSITE. I encourage you to take advantage of these webpages.

On February 26, 2010, SALTEENS will participate in a SADD (Students Against Destructive Decisions) conference, which is being held in Montgomery. The conference will consist of three-hundred (300) students from across the state.

As you can see, there is a lot going on in ALSITE. I encourage everyone to become more involved. For many years, I was content to be a part of this organization and to just blend into the membership. Not until I became more active did I realize just how rewarding it is to work with quality people who care about their profession and the impact it has on this state.

I look forward to seeing each of you at our meetings.

Dennis Dickey

Lake Guntersville State Park

The Fall 2010 ALSITE meeting will be held in the outstanding facilities of Lake Guntersville State Park in northeast Alabama. The date of the meeting is October 28, 2010, just in time for the fall color season. We plan to have an excellent technical program, Section business meeting, and special activities including golf and our annual Scholarship Bass Tournament.

ALSITE Annual Scholarship Bass Tournament

Additional information will be sent out this summer. However, if you want to stay overnight in the State Park lodge in conjunction with the meeting, you need to make your reservations soon, as rooms at the Park are in high demand all year long. We do not have a block of rooms – lodging is on your own. (See www.guntersvillestatepark.com for more information about the State Park and available lodging.)

Richard Caudle (205.655.8855) and Chris Reeves (205.444.7896) are your Local Arrangements Committee for this meeting. If you want to volunteer to help, please give them a call. They will need help with registration and setting up golf, among other things.

ALSITE Annual Scholarship Bass Tournament
We used to say that the wave of the future for traffic signal indications is the use of LED’s (Light Emitting Diodes). That wave has now reached the shore and has become the standard of practice. Cities, Counties, and States have ridden this “green” wave and reap the benefits of energy savings and reduced maintenance costs. Many of these agencies have completely replaced their incandescent signal heads with LED technology, while other agencies with larger inventories seek funding at every opportunity to assist with the up-front costs of an LED retrofit project.

The ARRA (American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009), better known as the Stimulus Program, provides agencies with a fresh source of revenue for LED retrofit projects. Many grants for LED signal head replacements were made available through the Department of Energy. These grants allowed agencies to purchase LED signal heads and inserts from this source. However, estimating the cost for DOT projects presents a different and more complex issue, particularly estimating the cost in an acceptable ALDOT format. Not only does the cost have to include the materials cost, but it also has to include the contractor costs of direct labor, mobilization, construction fuel, and construction engineering and inspection. Estimating is made more difficult because there is a significant disparity in materials costs between the various LED colors (red, yellow, green) and indications (circular, arrow). The most practical way to estimate the costs is to examine past bids or to work directly with a contractor. However, contractors are reticent to provide exact information because they do not want to “give away their hand” before the time of the bid.

An example of such a project is currently being undertaken by the City of Mobile using DOT Stimulus funds. The scope of the project includes: 2600 vehicle signal head inserts, 525 new vehicle signal heads, 443 pedestrian signal head inserts (countdown type), and 57 new pedestrian signal heads. Working with the ALDOT Estimator software and a very cooperative signal contractor, unit prices were established for the project. (Continued pg. 5)

The costs presented in the table above include materials and labor for the installation and include traffic control during installation. Additional costs must also be taken into account to formulate a complete cost estimate which will meet ALDOT standards. These costs include:

- Mobilization (9.7%)
- Construction Fuel (3%)
- Construction Engineering and Inspection (5% for State forces only)

In total, the project for the City of Mobile is estimated to cost approximately $885,000. The project is scheduled for bid in ALDOT February, 2010 bid letting. It will be interesting to see how close the estimate comes to the bids.
